The Invisible Stud Returns - <input type="checkbox"/> (KVDVD-1107) - <input type="checkbox"/> (KVDVD-1301)
The Last Train to Grovesville - <input type="checkbox"/> (KVDVD-0907)
The Legend of the Blue Wolves - <input type="checkbox"/> (KVDVD-0538)	Be advised that in the early 2010's Media Blaster's began to use a 'Production On Demand' (PoD) model for many of their new release and previously existing DVD catalog titles.
The Maiden Collection - <input type="checkbox"/> (Double Feature) (KVDVD-0832)	The downside is that DVD-R discs have a finite limited lifespan once data has been 'burned' onto them. The chemical layer onto which data is "burned"/written does eventually degrade and becomes unreadable. In testing, most brands of DVD-R discs tend to begin losing data, aka suffering from "disc rot", after five years. This pretty much kills the long term viability of the disc as "disc rot" is a very legitimate concern with any burnable media discs, not solely just DVD-R discs.
The Maiden Diaries - <input type="checkbox"/> (KVDVD-0128)	Media Blasters DVD titles on DVD-R confusingly appear to share catalog numbers with their pressed disc counterparts. However, the PoD DVDs are plainly marked on the backside of the case at the bottom in a text box with the following notice: "This product is manufactured on demand using DVD-R recordable media." Further easy visible identification can be made as the read-side of a DVD-R disc is a purple color in appearance.
The Sleazy Family - <input type="checkbox"/> (KVDVD-0816)	Which titles are available as only as regular DVDs, or as DVD-Rs, or in both media types, is not presently known. Just be advised that it is possible many of these titles may exist in only one or both formats, especially if it is a title released in the years ranging from 2010 through 2020.
The Tales Trilogy - <input type="checkbox"/> (KVDVD-0114)
The Two Facials of Eve - <input type="checkbox"/> (KVDVD-0701)
The Wife-swap Diaries - <input type="checkbox"/> (KVDVD-0922)
Tokio Private Police - <input type="checkbox"/> Complete (KVDVD-0117)
Too Hot For Teacher - <input type="checkbox"/> (KVDVD-1802)
Twin Angels - <input type="checkbox"/> The Complete Series (KVDVD-1105)	In November 2020, Media Blasters addressed consumer concerns over quality issues with the DVD-R media and has stated that they will move back to using pressed DVDs, albeit in limited production quantities, for their recent and new DVD title releases beginning in 2021.
Twin Dolls - <input type="checkbox"/> (KVDVD-1005)
